Safeguarding Children & Vulnerable Adults

What are my responsibilities?

Under section 175 of the Education Act 2002 and the Prevent Duty 2015, the College and every member of staff has a legal duty to:

- Know the different types of abuse and neglect, so you can identify individuals who may be in need of help or protection
- Report cases of suspected abuse, neglect or any concerns relating to protecting individuals from the risk of radicalisation
- Act in the best interest of the young person or adult

Types of concerns can take many forms and include:

- Mental health
- Domestic violence
- Online safety
- Risk of radicalisation or extremism
- Neglect, emotional, sexual or physical abuse
- Sexual or criminal exploitation

Signs to look out for include:

- Unexplained changes in behaviour or personality e.g uncharacteristically aggressive or seeming anxious
- Running away or going missing
- Showing increased secretiveness, especially around internet use
- Appearing with unexplained gifts or new possessions
- Misusing drugs and alcohol
